

"It is an extraordinary accomplishment, for one would think that Jefferson himself had put together each essay as a considered unit. That Jefferson's ideas are given by themselves, without reference to the action or incident which may have generated them, gives a timelessness and cohesion to the whole that affords an illuminating penetration into the mind of one of our greatest American thinkers. More than ever in this post World Trade Center world do we need this kind of spiritual lift."

—Louis Auchincloss

"Thomas Jefferson was the founding genius of American freedom and of the freedom that is all too slowly spreading to all parts of the world. Those who seek to understand the human condition and American principles should ponder the wisdom in this short volume."

—Edward H. Crane, President, The Cato Institute

"Petersen's superb book provides a vivid reminder not only of Jefferson's wisdom but also its relevance to today's world.

—Peter Bart, Editor-in-Chief, Variety

"Seamlessly weaving Jefferson's wisdom and lively moral imagination into discrete and timeless meditations, this far from common 'commonplace book' brings Jefferson's thought alive again for a new generation of Americans."

—Forrest Church, author of The American Creed and editor of The Jefferson Bible

"LIGHT AND LIBERTY places before the reader an extraordinary distillation of the thought and wisdom of Thomas Jefferson. It captures the essential spirit of the man by creating from Jefferson's voluminous writings an amazing synthesis of his heart and mind, at once illuminating and uplifting. Readers may pause to ask themselves on occasion, how American is this or that idea in the twenty-first century? But such questions only add to the reader's enjoyment of this inspired book."

—Merrill D. Peterson, Professor Emeritus of History at the University of Virginia and author of The Jefferson Image in the American Mind

"An ingenious gathering of the best of Thomas Jefferson."

—Newt Gingrich, former Speaker of the United States House of Representatives

"Given the material that I teach at Harvard's Kennedy School and elsewhere around the country, I find LIGHT AND LIBERTY a unique resource and, personally, it is an inspiration."

—Dan Fenn, Staff Assistant to President Kennedy and Founding Director of the JFK Library and Museum
